SCHOOL PROFILE

Occupying a lovely Victoria townhouse in the heart of Central London, Duff Miller College is a coeducational, Sixth Form private boarding school in South Kensington. The curriculum features an impressive range of 25 A-Level courses, with particular emphasis placed on STEM subjects. Duff Miller College also offers Oxbridge and Medical Preparation / Placement Programmes. Learners receive outstanding support through intimate class sizes/lower student-to-teacher ratio. Actor Tom Hardy is one of the school's famous alumni.

FACILITIES

Some of the modern study facilities are science laboratories, a design studio (with a dark room) and computing suite.

SPORTS AND ARTS

Extracurricular activities challenge young minds and bodies. For sport there's the Imperial College Gym Club, Football Club, Rugby Club and Netball Club. Fun excursions are always on the schedule like the annual ski trip, West End shows and Duke of Edinburgh Award.

DORMITORIES AND STUDENT LIFE

Princess Beatrice House (under 18s) is a modern and safe place to call home: secure, electronic key card entrance and 24-hours a day live-in house parents provide the utmost in support and care. The beautifully decorated single or shared en-suite rooms have built-in storage, study desks and kitchen facilities (however, meals are served in the dining hall).
